The Gospel according to St. Luke

Chapter Five

What relational dynamics does Luke present to us in the opening eleven verses of this chapter?

What theme(s) do we encounter in the healing of the leper?

What do we learn about the nature of Jesus in the passage where He is in a house healing people? What thematic elements does Luke touch on here?

What did Levi give up to follow Jesus? Are we willing to do the same?

Why did Jesus tell the two parables about old and new garments and wineskins?
