The Gospel according to St. Luke

Chapter Ten

Why do you think Jesus sends out more disciples in this chapter after having just sent out the Twelve in chapter nine?

What reasons could there be behind Christ's commands to His disciples in how they go out in their ministry?

What do we learn about the nature of God in this chapter?

The parable of the Good Samaritan teaches us much. What do we learn about ourselves and our duties from it?

Why did Jesus seemingly ignore Martha's complaint? What can we learn from this incident?
